

The air waves belong to the people and never has it been more obvious until this election that main stream media doesn't give a damn about this fact. I don't even watch any of the major networks or any of the cable news stations any more because of their poor coverage during this election. Sinclair Broadcasting is now abusing their power by using the airwaves to get across their own political agenda. Shame on Sinclair. Please do something to stop them and also get the media less consolidated.
